

The Escape treasures Mothers

Mothers are sacredly special;
Mothers are abundantly kind;
Mothers: they do encourage;
and Mothers never mind...
They have wisdom;
They can guide;
They are strong;
But they can't hide... the love they have in their hearts.

What a cherished joy to be able to go find something unique, handmade and special for Mom and above all, with that gift, to also give her some of your precious TIME!

The Escape also has a few mothers of noble kind. One however, this month, gets a special ode of appreciation. Linda Gilman.

Well known to local customers and those from afar, she is treasured by family, friends and customers alike.

Linda's energy and attitude towards life and whoever crosses her way, is an example for all. She is loved as a mother, grandmother and friend. Linda, Allison and Rachel were recently "caught together" at The Escape. The jubilant atmosphere when they join in activity is simply contagious. The special mother-daughter-granddaughter bonds are obviously clear. They especially enjoy Sunday luncheons, family time, board games, shopping together and chatting over a cup of coffee. What beautiful love they share!

Two artists' creations Linda loves to sell are introduced as well. Both can also be seen as symbols of the virtues of a Mother.

Deb of Desert Heart is an artist in Alpine, Texas. She finds treasures in the desert and in deserted places. Those she turns around into precious jewelry that reveals the beauty of things most of us might not even notice. Likewise a Mom uplifts her child when lost in a desert of despair, to see the beauty or silver lining therein. Similarly Bruce Larrabee in Utah works with dull clay from earth. On the potters wheel, through fire and glaze, he transforms it into the most beautiful crockery perfect for any Mom's home. A Mother, like the artist with clay, molds her children in character and image. At The Escape one can find countless gifts rich in symbolism, for a special Mom, Grandmother and Friend.

Celebrate Mom with handmade giving for extraordinary living!
